

1
Traditional grain grown throughout the Wimmera Mallee. Used primarily for grinding in to flour and used for bread and cakes.

A: WHEAT

2
A legume grown primarily to plough into the ground to increase nitrogen levels in the soil. Easily confused with a type of pea crop. Hint: name starts with "V"

A: VETCH

3
A legume grown for human consumption, stock feed and fodder.

A: FIELD PEAS

4
This colourful crop produces a small black seed used primarily for its oil.

A: CANOLA

5
This crop was one of the first grains ever cultivated in the world. Along with being used for human consumption and animal fodder it is also a primary ingredient in the production of beer.

A: BARLEY